Scholarship Conditions

1. Applications are restricted to students of Australian secondary schools.
2. Applicants must be in their final year of secondary school studies in 2023, intending to commence a degree at university in 2024 or full-time tertiary studies.
3. Applications to be received by email no later than 5pm ACST on Thurs 27 July 2023
4. Applications to be submitted no earlier than 5 June 2023.
5. As your video file is likely to be very large, you will need to submit all application files, via (free online file transfer services) WeTransfer or DropBox to leonie.welsh@agribusiness.asn.au
6. A complete application will comprise:
 - a. Completed and signed application Form – this Word document
 - b. A less than 5-minute video answering questions 2 and 3
 - c. A PDF of your Academic Record
 - d. Your photo
7. Applications will be assessed by the Agribusiness Australia Scholarship Committee at its discretion and approved by the Agribusiness Australia Board. The Agribusiness Australia Scholarship Committee and Board’s decision shall be final and no further correspondence will be entered into.
8. The winner will be announced by Prime Super and Agribusiness Australia in collaboration with the winner.
9. The total scholarship is valued at up to $3,000 payable in instalments of $1,000 over no more than three years. $1,000 will be paid each calendar year to the Scholarship winner:
 - a. upon receipt of enrolment for full time study in an Australian university or tertiary agriculture-related degree/diploma and
 - b. submission of a report (no more than two pages or less than 5-minute video) annually about your ag studies and work experiences, which will be posted on the Agribusiness Australia website. The focus of the report is to be on learnings during the academic year and is intended to offer encouragement to students undertaking tertiary agricultural study.
10. The Scholarship payment will commence once the successful student is enrolled in full time study in an agriculture related degree at an Australian university. If the successful student is not accepted by the academic institution or does not ultimately elect an agriculture course, then the whole scholarship is forfeited. Students may defer one year of study, at which time the scholarship will be held in escrow for that year only and will not be paid. A student who defers study must recommence their study at the expiration of their one-year deferment or all outstanding funds will be forfeited.
11. Applicant students must be Australian citizens or permanent Australian residents.
